Course Objectives and Learning Outcomes

This course aims to introduce contemporary approaches to technical analysis. Technical analysis involves the use of historical stock prices, volume, and other related data to forecast future price movements. Its objective is to identify trend changes at an early stage based on information available.

On completion of this course, students should be able to analyze financial data by using mainstream technical analysis techniques, evaluate the performance of different technical trading rules in different markets, and write a research paper on technical analysis.
